

Beverly B. Carter, Esq. is a retired Maryland attorney. She served as an administrator in various agencies within the state's criminal justice system, most recently as Court Administrator for the Circuit Court for Baltimore City.

She is a past or current member of the board of directors for numerous civic, professional, philanthropic, and governmental associations including Monumental City Bar Foundation, Afro American Newspapers, Afro Charities and the Baltimore City Planning Commission. She was selected as a member of Maryland's Top 100 Women and is a graduate of The Leadership Baltimore program.

Mrs. Carter has a passionate interest in African American art, history, and culture. She owned and operated Objets D'Art, an art gallery that showcased the work of local and national African American artists. She has served on the boards and various committees of Baltimore's established arts institutions.

Her current projects include serving as historian for the Dubois Circle, an African American women's group in Baltimore, which has been meeting continuously since it was organized in 1906 to support the activities of W. E. B. Dubois' Niagara Movement. Utilizing the Dubois Circle archives, which date from 1906 until today, she is researching and documenting the organization's longstanding history, programming and its social justice, civil rights and educational activities throughout its current 115-year existence.

Mrs. Carter also serves on the board of the Laurel Cemetery Memorial Project, Inc. whose mission is to uncover the forgotten past of the thousands of African Americans who remain buried under a shopping center on Belair Road in Baltimore.
